1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The BCCUL’s 2015-2018 strategic plan is being crafted against the background of an uncertain macro-economic environment. Further there are some real and present threats to the enabling environment that constituents have hitherto enjoyed; these include taxation, the removal of tax incentives to save and other elements of the enabling environment.

In addition to taxation, other factors creating margin pressures on credit unions include the increasing level of NPLs and the depressed returns on investments in the prevailing economic climate. While from time to time there are some green shots in the economy, it is debatable if they are sustainable and therefore the extent to which a turnaround is in the offing cannot be predicted with any degree of confidence.

Notwithstanding the challenging environment members are demanding a higher level of service from their credit unions and further an expanded range of services. If this were not enough, the regulatory compliance burdens have also increased.

As the apex body, the onus is on the BCCUL to respond to the changing needs of its members. In this context therefore the BCCUL has identified the following strategic goals for the 3-year planning period (reference pages 9 to 12):

1. Increase revenue through the provision of additional services to member organizations.
2. Facilitate the establishment and launch of a Co-operative Bank by 2018.
3. Enhance responses to customer/member needs by reviewing and enhancing HR structure.
4. Strengthen the co-operative movement by facilitating strategic alliances / consolidations among smaller credit unions – and fostering greater co-operation between credit unions and other co-operatives.
5. Diversify the training formats and portfolio to effectively assist credit unions (local and regional) with continuous development of their staff, volunteers and members.
6. Continue the League’s regional and international focus and linkages.
8. Further promote and expand the offerings of the Central Fund Facility.
9. Develop research and information mining capabilities.

For each of the above strategic goals, action plans have been developed with objectives and strategies, time frames, KPIs, measures and key resources to be utilized (see pages 14 to 26).

There are several key success factors that will facilitate achievement of the various strategic goals and accompanying objectives. Key success factors identified are as follows:

- Adequate financial resources
• Human resources
• Legislation/regulation
• Co-operation among members

The budget for the 3-year Plan will be determined by management and approved by the Board from time to time.
